

COURSE PACKET SALES UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Course packets sold through the University Bookstore cannot contain materials that violate copyright laws. If you are unclear on what constitutes copyright infringement, the Bookstore can provide (free of charge) a booklet that answers questions regarding copyright on campus. If your department must pay a copyright fee to a publisher, include that amount in your reimbursement cost.

Please include a completed copy of this form with every shipment of materials to the University Bookstore. This form serves as an invoice from your department.
