

Anne F B Flaherty and students

Thinking About the Civil Rights Movement and African American Politics

The Civil Rights Movement was a social movement intended to bring about social, political and economic change. This poster session presents the conclusions and research of a group of students studying the outcomes of the Civil Rights Movement in a course on African American Politics (POLS 440). Students will be presenting original works that ask- and attempt to answer- various questions on just how much “movement” we have seen.