

The SIUE Black Studies Program

Presents:

Dr. Bryan Jack

"Keeping the Colored Man in Low Condition: African Americans in the Post-Reconstruction South"

Date:

Wednesday, February 24, 2016

Time:

11:00am - 12:00pm

Location:

*Lovejoy Library Friends
Corner (1st Floor)*

Admission:

Free

Dr. Bryan Jack teaches in the Department of Historical Studies at SIUE. His teaching and research areas are African American history, St. Louis history, and the American South. He has developed numerous undergraduate classes, including: Migration and Movement in African American History, American Slavery Through Biography, The South in American Culture, and Civil Rights in St. Louis. His publications include The Saint Louis African American Community and the Exodusters, published in 2008 by University of Missouri Press.

For more information contact Prince Wells at (618) 650-5038 or email <pwells@siue.edu>