

SIUE Black Studies & SIUE Women's Studies
Presents:

Dr. Elizabeth Cali

"Frederick Douglass, a 19th-Century Tumbler"

Date:

Monday, March 28, 2016

Time:

11:00am - 12:00pm

Location:

*Lovejoy Library Friends
Corner (1st Floor)*

Admission:

Free

Liz Cali is an Assistant Professor of English here at SIUE. She teaches African American and Black Diaspora literature. Her research interests focus on 19th-century African American literature, Black print culture studies, and African American women's nationalisms. She recently published an article on 19th-century African American author and newspaperwoman Mary Ann Shadd Cary. And she is currently working on a research project focused on African American woman writer and magazine editor, Pauline Hopkins.

For more information contact Prince Wells at (618) 650-5038 or email <pwells@siue.edu>

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY
EDWARDSVILLE
COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES