

Next Lifelong Learning Presentation, Nov. 30

Lifelong Learning brings you the philosophy of French writer Simone de Beauvoir as well as some “need to know” information about pain, opioids and addiction.

“Meeting Simone de Beauvoir,” presented by Margaret A. Simons, PhD, distinguished research professor emeritus, Department of Philosophy

10:30- 11:45 a.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 30

Morris University Center, Hickory Hackberry Room

“Pain, Opioids and Addiction: A historical and geopolitical perspective,” presented by Chris Herndon, Pharm D, associate professor, Department of Pharmacy Studies and clinical assistant professor in the Department of Community and Family Medicine at St. Louis University School of Medicine.

1:15 – 2:30 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 30

Morris University Center, Hickory Hackberry Room

The SIUE community of faculty, retired faculty, staff and students are always invited to attend for FREE. The cost is $5 for the public unless otherwise stated.

For a complete synopsis about these and other upcoming presentations, please see the Lifelong Learning brochure at siue.edu/educationaloutreach or contact Patty Bade at pbade@siue.edu or 650-3985.

We welcome your comments, questions and participation in the program.