

Who We Are

We are a group of individuals who share common love for video games. We are ecstatic to finally have our own gaming team, and our hopes is that we continue to grow and gain recognition throughout the gaming industry, hoping to one day compete competitively.

1. TagJester Real name: Kyle Darby, is the official leader of the group. Who has competed in First person shooter tournaments in times past. His vision is to gather more people to the group, and while having fun, maybe one day we will make it big.

2. TagJoker Real name: Stephen Gill, plays a key role in support, and strategy when playing team objective based games. As long as he is helping contribute to the victory in the end that is all that matters.

3. Xvega88 Real name: Donnie Kluess, is our reliable slayer in First person shooter games. When we need a definite victory we can count on Kluess to come through in tight situations. Kluess enjoys playing recreationally, and competitively.

4. KN1GH7IM3 Real name: Chris Knight. Knight is a support player in objective based gaming. Knight plays recreationally, and enjoy live streaming on twitch. Knight really views himself as another piece that completes the puzzle of Team Avid Gaming.

What We Do

Live Stream - We do live streams of the latest, and current video games to date.

Commentary - We provide commentaries on our videos for our viewers, as well as walk-throughs for people having a tough time getting through certain parts of a game.

Reviews - Our reviews provide a brief analysis on video games past and present. We try our best to remain unbiased, and give the rating based on certain aspects of gameplay.

Montages - For viewing pleasure we do montages, as well as other videos showcasing skill sets, game mechanics, graphics and other strategies for games. Our montages range from 1-5 minutes.
