Teaching English as a Second Language at SIUE

A Master of Arts in teaching English as a second language (TESL) from the Department of English Language and Literature prepares graduates to teach and tutor students who are learning English as a second language, both in the United States and abroad. Students will gain a foundation in theories of linguistics, second language acquisition and pedagogy, as well as practical experience working with second-language learners. Throughout the practicum experience, students will have the opportunity to apply their skills and knowledge in local settings under the supervision of faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences.

At SIUE, the TESL curriculum helps students gain a specialized understanding of how languages and language learning works. Students will learn to construct a working philosophy of language learning and teaching, gain awareness of the role of cultural and social variables in language learning, and design, organize, conduct and assess ESL instructional programs.

Program application materials may be uploaded during the application process, but official transcripts must be sent directly from the school attended, and test scores must be verifiable with the appropriate testing service. Please contact the Graduate Admissions office with questions regarding the application submission process at graduateadmissions@siue.edu.

There is a requirement of two years of college-level coursework (or its equivalent) in modern or classical foreign language with at least a C average. These requirements may be satisfied during the course of the student's graduate studies.

Graduation Requirements

The mode of final examination is dependent on the culminating activity selected by the student. A student who elects the thesis option must successfully complete a one-hour oral examination based on the thesis. A student who elects to enroll in 595 must attain at least a B in that course and successfully complete an examination responding to questions submitted by an examining committee of TESL faculty.

Curriculum

The specialization in teaching English as a second language requires 30 hours of coursework. During a student's program, the student must complete three credits of TESL practicum (ENG 545), beginning in his or her first or second semester. To complete this specialization, the student, in consultation with the TESL advisor, may elect a thesis or take ENG 595. Enrolling in 595 is recommended for students with no previous or current TESL experience.

Students taking 595 to complete their exit requirements are required to complete four electives from the following list, and students electing the thesis option must complete three electives. For all students, at least two of the electives must be at the 500-level.
