
Kenya has a market-based economy and is considered the economic, commercial, financial and logistics hub of East Africa. With the strongest industrial base in East Africa, Kenya has been successful in attracting U.S. exporters and investors. More U.S. companies are exporting to Kenya to take advantage of Kenya’s strategic location, diversified economy, entrepreneurial workforce, comprehensive air routes, and status as a regional financial center.

Tanzania is one of the 10 fastest growing economies in the world. Tanzania has an ambitious industrialization plan to transform into a middle-income economy by 2030. U.S. exporters and service providers interested in exploring commercial opportunities in sub-Saharan Africa should strongly consider Tanzania as their government is focusing on making large investments in infrastructure and the energy sector, which present opportunities for U.S. exports.
