FALL 2021 CATALOG

Enriching • Empowering • Engaging • Education for all

A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Greetings!

The SIUE Office of Online Services and Educational Outreach works to provide community members opportunities for personal and professional enrichment. This fall, we are excited to offer in-person and virtual learning opportunities to suit your needs.

Gardening and photography are new this fall, as well as fully online graduate programs in accounting, special education, and public administration and policy analysis. If you are seeking a flexible online degree program, check out all of the online offerings at siue.edu/online. We are continually expanding and would love to hear your new ideas.

We are accepting applicants to train for careers as laboratory technicians, chemical technicians and food science technicians in self-paced courses that can be completed in as little as six weeks.

Join us this fall or connect on social media to learn more.

Blacktivism in the Academy

A podcast by scholar-activists for scholar-activists

*Circle Up: Black Student Athletes
Justice or Just Us?
Big Momma Knows. You Don't.
The Professionalism Trap*

This podcast encourages and facilitates learning, activism and anti-racist action. Listeners will learn from a variety of scholars and will enjoy a blend of informative and engaging episodes on a range of topics, some serious like colorism within Black communities, and some lighthearted like Black joy.

"Blacktivism in the Academy" is a creation of the DREAM (Dismantling Racism through Education, Advocacy and Mobilization) Collective at SIUE. The DREAM Collective is committed to serving southern Illinois and the greater St. Louis metropolitan area by supporting community members, educational organizations and professionals in the process of naming, addressing and dismantling racism through education, advocacy and mobilization.

If you are seeking a community of like-minded scholar-activists, you're invited to join us. "Blacktivism in the Academy" is available on Spotify, Stitcher and Apple Podcast, as well as all major podcast platforms.

Slave Pen to Spectator Sport: Remembering St. Louis's Buried Past

Explore the history of the slave trade in downtown St. Louis and efforts to both erase and remember this past in a riveting discussion that travels through time.

*Thursday, 6-7:30 p.m., Sept. 23
Glen Carbon Centennial Library, Glen Carbon, Ill.*

Certification for Small and Diverse Business

Learn about government contracting and obtaining the necessary certifications for your small and/or diverse business. This two-part session will feature speakers who are experts in the field of government contracting and provide all the information you need to successfully navigate government regulations in the State of Illinois. Sponsored by the Illinois SBDC for the Metro East and Business Enterprise Program at SIUE.

*Thursday, 10-11 a.m., Oct. 14
Online via Zoom*

SIUE OFFICE OF ONLINE SERVICES AND EDUCATIONAL OUTREACH

COMMITMENT TO ADDRESSING AND COMBATING RACIAL INJUSTICE

- P It is the POSITION of the faculty and staff in Online Services and Educational Outreach that we condemn racism, racial inequities and oppression of all persons and are committed to nurturing positive change and working toward a more equitable society.
- E We believe that critical reflection, direct action and accountability are essential in promoting positive change. Therefore, we promise to EDUCATE ourselves, our students and our community to be better agents of change by offering educational programming that will serve the public and allow us to work steadily toward a more just society.
- A We will ACT, conduct business, govern our practices and continually reflect on all efforts to operate in a space that supports the sharing of knowledge through educational resources and community engagement.

In doing so we will:

- Share University resources, educational tools and other relevant activities with the community
 - Provide a free monthly reading or learning tool
 - Examine our departmental practices and encourage actions that increase equity and anti-racism
 - Support and enhance the efforts of community members, groups or partners working toward social justice and equity for all
- C We are COMMITTED to providing accurate information and resource materials on racial justice issues, sustaining dialogue and ensuring equitable racial representation in the programs we offer. We will continuously work to inspire others to stand up and speak out against racial injustices.
 - E We will sustain our commitment to social justice by continuously EVALUATING our efforts to evolve and publicly sharing our contributions as an office to shape a changing world.

ONLINE BACHELOR'S DEGREE COMPLETION

siue.edu/academics/bachelors-degree-completion

It's never too late to finish your degree! SIUE offers flexible, accelerated, fully online degree completion programs to fit the needs of adult learners like you. Earning your bachelor's degree doesn't have to be stressful. Our degree completion programs were developed to help you pursue educational success while you juggle work and family. You'll learn in a supportive, online environment that is focused on preparing you to accomplish your career goals without sacrificing personal, family and professional responsibilities.

Online Degree Completion Programs:

- Applied Communication Studies, Public Relations
- Business Administration
- Criminal Justice Studies
- Integrative Studies, Leadership in Organizations

Completing a bachelor's degree can help you improve your quality of life and advance your career. Consider these facts:

- Increased Salary: Bachelor's degree holders earn an average of $10,000 more each year than those with an associate degree. (Bureau of Labor Statistics)
- Career Success: Nearly 90% of bachelor's degree holders view their job as a career and/or a stepping stone to a career. (Pew Research Center)
- Job Security: On average, unemployment rates are higher for individuals with some college and no degree when compared to a bachelor's or advanced degree. (Bureau of Labor Statistics)
- Enhanced Skills: Regardless of your chosen major, college graduates possess valuable critical thinking and problem-solving skills, which more than 80% of employers agree are important for success. (National Center for Higher Education Management Systems and the Association of American Colleges and Universities, How Liberal Arts and Sciences Majors Fare in Employment)

SIUE holds the same accreditations as many of the nation's most prestigious schools. Our online degree completion courses are held to the same high academic standards and are taught by the same highly qualified faculty who teach in SIUE classrooms.

Our academic programs are designed to meet professional demands in a variety of fields. You will expand your knowledge and gain the experience sought by employers throughout the region.

You can do this! Contact the Office of Online Student Services for more information.

Discovering Stories with Cindy Reinhardt

Cindy Reinhardt has researched and written stories about more than 200 historic Edwardsville buildings. Her search for stories from the past began in the 1960s when she started researching her family tree and expanded to include other families approximately 30 years ago. Today, when researching a house or commercial building, she dives into the social history of the early owners to find out who they were, where they came from and what their lives were like. This program is about her favorite stories from Edwardsville's past.

SIUE SUCCESSFUL COMMUNITIES COLLABORATIVE

siue.edu/successful-communities

In April 2021, Jessica DeSpain, PhD, and Connie Frey-Spurlock, PhD, were awarded a National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) grant to implement CODES: Community-Oriented Digital Engagement Scholars, a general education pathway introducing underserved students to digital community engagement.

The SIUE Successful Communities Collaborative (SSCC) team will develop and support partnerships with community organizations in four municipalities that will form the basis for each student cohort's community engagement experience. Partnerships will be supported by NEH funding for three years, providing students and community members opportunities to tackle complex problems that require solutions rooted in transdisciplinary knowledge and skills.

DeSpain is co-director of SIUE's IRIS Center for the Digital Humanities and a professor in the Department of English Language and Literature. Frey-Spurlock is the director of SSCC and an associate professor of sociology.

PARTNER HIGHLIGHTS

The Latino Roundtable of Southwestern Illinois is a group of business professionals whose mission is to work together in developing and expanding available resources to improve delivery of social services to the Latino community through networking, advocating and providing services. The group sponsors or co-sponsors annual events, including Fairmont City Community Parade and Egg Hunt, Hispanic Health Fair, Mexican Consulate visit, Immigrants in our Midst conference, and a holiday coat and toy drive.

arts & issues

The SIUE Arts & Issues series brings artistic excellence to campus through an eclectic blend of speakers and performers. For over 35 years, Arts & Issues has showcased some of the world's finest artists. Each season, thought-provoking speakers inspire people of all ages and backgrounds. Arts & Issues offers an exceptional mix of entertainment that enriches the lives of our students, faculty and staff, and our friends in the community.

EDUCARD

siue.edu/educard

Do you want the opportunity to explore possibilities of professional growth or personal enrichment in an economical and flexible way? If you answered "Yes," we invite you to sit in on regular classes at SIUE through our Educard Program.

What is Educard?

Educard is a special community program which allows you to attend selected credit classes offered by Southern Illinois University Edwardsville. It provides an opportunity for you to sample the subjects that interest you most, from accounting to zoology.

What is the cost?

$60 per class.

Who is eligible for Educard?

Anyone who is not currently enrolled for credit in the University is eligible. High School students are eligible and may take up to three classes.

Which classes are approved for Educard participation?

A wide variety of classes, on-campus ONLY, are approved for Educard participation. The classes not offered through Educard are classes with a full enrollment, non-credit classes, travel study, online, distance education, classes in which a danger may exist, classes requiring prerequisites, and classes where added direct expense may be incurred by the University. The following departments have approved classes for the fall 2021 semester:

- | | | |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|-----------------------------|
| • Academic Development | • Environmental Sciences | • Psychology |
| • Applied Comm. Studies | • Foreign Languages | • Social Work |
| • Art and Design | • Earth Science | • Sociology |

| • English | • Political Science | |

For a full list of classes offered by these departments, please visit the Online Services and Educational Outreach website at siue.edu/continuing-education/educard.

Please note: Due to COVID-19 protocols, some courses may not be available and limited capacities may be observed.*

What is not included?

- You will not receive a grade as an Educard participant.
- No official records of your classwork or attendance will be kept; therefore, no transcript is available.
- Since you do not pay normal student welfare and activity fees you may not participate in student services and activities supported by those fees.

What about textbooks?

As an Educard participant, you may borrow textbooks, as available, at no cost through Textbook Service, located at 200 University Park Drive, lower level. You may pick up your textbooks after the first week of classes, and you are required to return textbooks to Textbook Service at the end of the term.

Who can answer questions about Educard and Registration?

You may also register in person Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Please do not send payment with your registration.

WORKFORCE INNOVATION OPPORTUNITY ACT PROGRAM

Unemployed? Underemployed?

SIUE serves students through the Workforce Innovation Opportunity Act (WIOA) Program

SIUE works regularly with county and state employment and training agencies to help match eligible students with funding. Individuals who are unemployed, underemployed or experiencing financial hardship may be eligible for support to complete their educational programs. Students must be seeking a credential in a high-demand employment field, be within two years or less of completing their degree, and meet local workforce criteria to qualify.

If you are seeking employment in an in-demand field and are interested in learning more about funding opportunities that will help you complete an SIUE program, please contact us at outreach@siue.edu or reach out directly to your county provider:

- Madison County Employment and Training Department (includes Bond, Jersey and Calhoun Counties), 618-296-4301
- St. Clair County Intergovernmental Grants Department Workforce Development Group (St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph, Clinton and Washington Counties), 618-825-3259
