Southern Illinois University Edwardsville
Supplemental Retirement Plan
Participant Responsibilities

The following applies to all participants in the SIUE Supplemental Retirement Plan (Plan):

1. Federal Contribution Limits: 403(b) contributions are subject to annual limits determined under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) sec. 402(g) and 415 (c). Contributions to a 457 (Deferred Compensation) plan do NOT affect the 403(b) limit.

2. Salary Reduction Agreement (SRA) Changes: Employees may start or change future salary reduction contributions at any time by submitting a new Agreement form to the Benefits staff. Employees completing an SRA for the first time will also need to complete an Enrollment form with the specific vendor desired. The changes will take effect according to the payroll processing schedule and when the changes are submitted.

3. Investment Responsibility: Employees are responsible for their 403(b) investment decisions. This responsibility requires employees to learn the nature and risk of the investments, monitor their investments, and determine when a change is appropriate. Employees should discuss investment concerns with their vendor representative and read and understand the prospectus.

4. Authorized Investment Companies (Vendors): As long as an employee is in a pay status, they may contribute to approved investment vendors and products authorized under the Plan. Participants may change future contributions or transfer all or a portion of an account balance to a different authorized vendor in the Plan, subject to contractual surrender charges or redemption fees per the vendor. While employed by SIUE, current employees may not transfer their 403(b) balance to vendors or investment options not authorized by the Plan. Upon termination, participants may transfer their balance to another vendor, in accordance with the Plan rules.

5. Withdrawals and Loans: Generally, employees cannot withdraw or roll over their 403(b) account balance before they attain age 59 ½, terminate employment, die, or become disabled. Withdrawals may also be available as ordered by a court under a Qualified Domestic Relations Order (QDRO). Loans, in amounts limited by federal law, are available from selected vendors in the Plan. Loans are only available to current employees. Hardship withdrawals within the safe harbor rules may be available as well. The investment company is responsible for determining participant's eligibility for other withdrawals. Tax penalties may apply to distributions before age 59 ½. Employees are entirely responsible for all loans and withdrawals and any resulting tax liabilities.

6. Salary Reduction Agreement (SRA) Termination: To stop contributions, employees must file a new SRA and mail it to the Benefits staff. If employees terminate employment, the SRA terminates automatically after the payroll is paid. If a previous employee later returns to work, they must complete a new SRA to resume contributing. SIUE reserves the right to suspend or terminate a participant's SRA if it believes that the participant has exceeded the Plan limits or is in violation of any applicable federal requirement or any term of this agreement.

7. Required Distributions: After employees retire, they must take minimum distributions, generally beginning no later than age 70 ½. Employees are not required to take minimum distributions from their Plan account as long as they are still working for SIUE, even though they may be over age 70 ½.

8. Effective Date: Unless employees specify a future effective date, a newly submitted SRA form takes effect on the next payroll to be processed after Benefits staff receives the form.

9. Payroll Deduction for SRA: Employees are responsible to verify that the SRA has been accurately processed by comparing it to their earnings statement and should contact Benefits staff immediately if any discrepancy is found.
