CAMP CEDAR POINT

RESIDENT CAMP FACT SHEET

- Camp Cedar Point (CCP) has been around for over 60 years!
- Camp Cedar Point is 200 acres located in Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge on Little Grassy Lake, 20 minutes south of Carbondale
- We are a resident camp that serves 400-500 campers every summer
- There are 6 different units where girls can stay
- A unit consists of either a platform tent or a Hogan (a Hogan is a screened in cabin)
- Each unit has its own theme and the girls staying in the unit will be around the same age
- Each unit will have between 2-4 counselors
- Many of our counselors return to camp every year and they have cool camp names. (mine is Cupquake... ya, I know)
- Our counselors are all First Aid and CPR trained. They also receive a full week of staff training prior to camp
- Every year we hire around 34 staff
- We have a certified Health Supervisor on camp property at all times
- All lifeguards are Certified which includes the American Red Cross Waterfront certification
- The camp is not air conditioned (except for the infirmary)

- CCP is a primitive camp meaning there are really cool insects and animals for us to observe
- Campers ages range from 7-17
- If parents wish to attend camp they will need to fill out a CCP volunteer application. If accepted, they will be stationed in a unit separate from their child. (Please refer volunteers to Anne)
- There is a lot of walking at camp
- There is also a lot of FUN to walk to!
- Activities are scheduled on Sunday nights so that the girls have input
- We never force girls to do any activities they are not comfortable with. (we may encourage them)
- Girls are encouraged to take showers and brush their teeth.
- Regular camp activities include (but are not limited to): Archery (not for brownies), swimming, funyaking, canoeing, hiking, arts and crafts and outdoor education!
- Girls can choose either three or five night session
- Girls can reserve a spot in their Hogan or tent for a friend
- The camp drop off time is on Sunday afternoons
- The three day session pick up time is Wednesday at 4pm
- The week long session pick up time is Friday from 10-noon

SCORING

Less than 23 points - Think carefully about whether or not you feel you are ready for summer camp. You and a parent are probably the best judge of whether or not you are ready. If you are a Brownie Girl Scout, maybe the 3-day Brownie Try-It program will work for you.

Between 23 to 30 points - You sound like you may be ready for a camp adventure! Pick a session that sounds like FUN to you, and practice being outside and staying away from home.

Over 30 points - You must be an experienced camper, or just born to be a Happy Camper! Sign up for camp and have a great time!

Health and Safety

Ensuring the safety and well-being of each girl is our primary concern. GSSI and CCP adhere to the Girl Scouts of the USA standards. Over sixty years of camping history, plus specialized training, help us keep girls safe. A Health Supervisor and infirmary are on site at all times.

Who May Attend?

All girls entering 1st through 12th grade are invited to attend resident and day camps.

Non-Girl Scouts are also welcome.

Camp is open to all girls regardless of race, color, religion, socioeconomic class, creed, sexual orientation, disability, or national origin.

Financial Assistance

Financial assistance is available. For more information, please check our website at www.gsofsi.org or the 2013-2014 Program Book.

FAQs

How long will campers stay at camp?

Camp sessions vary in program focus and length of stay. We offer 3-night, 5-night, and 10-night sessions.

What kinds of activities are typical at camp?

Camp days are full and active beginning with the wake-up bell at 7 am. Girls help plan their own group's activities. Most meals are served family-style in the dining hall. Time for rest and showering is built into each day.

Can my daughter go with a friend?

Part of the camp experience is meeting new friends all sessions are on a first come, first serve basis. If there is room in the sessions, girls can attend together.

What about the summer heat?

While being outdoors, campers' bodies adjust to the heat. Rest time from physical activities, plenty of shade, fluids, and swim time also help campers from becoming overheated.

Stories of the forest, prairie, ponds, and creeks will be this week's theme. Campers will "dream" up and create fairies, elves, gnomes, and dragons to be used in our Fairy Garden. Staff and campers will also dress up as their favorite Dream Team. Campers will help make the Piasa Bird come alive. ## Our History

In 1926, the Levis Family commissioned a group of Civilian Conservation Corps (C.C.C.) members to build a YWCA retreat called Camp Talahi. Nearly thirty years later, industrialist and entrepreneur John M. Olin bought the lodge and surrounding woods. Later, Mr. Olin deeded his property to the State, requesting that it always be preserved as a natural area.

Over the years, volunteer stewards, educators, and community members of all kinds have kept Olin's vision alive. The Nature Institute officially became a nonprofit organization in 1980 and, with the help of people like you, we continue to protect the Olin Nature Preserve and other parts of our community's natural heritage.

Our Mission

Preservation

TNI land stewards use modern land management techniques, like prescribed fire, to control invasive species, promote biodiversity and improve wildlife habitat across all TNI preserves and buffer properties. In collaboration with local partners, stewards also work on projects to protect habitat along the 22-mile Great River Road, a National Scenic Byway.

Restoration

The Heartland Prairie project is a vibrant example of TNI's restoration efforts. With years of dedication from volunteer stewards, city officials, and TNI staff, this former agricultural land now serves as an example of high-quality native prairie in Illinois. Other projects include the Freeman, Metzger, Larson Savanna, the Kemp & Cora Hutchinson Bird Sanctuary, and Cypress Pond.

Education

The Nature Institute welcomes over 400 young people to its Discovery Day Camp each summer, where they learn outdoor skills and the importance of conservation. TNI educators also host field trips, community events, free and low-cost naturalist programs for area students, and environmental education workshops for teachers throughout the year.

TNI WORKS TO FOSTER
AN AWARENESS AND APPRECIATION OF THE
THROUGH PRESERVATION, RESTORATION, AND EDUCATION.

- Wear supportive shoes, especially through the Olin Nature Preserve and the Mississippi Sanctuary where trails become moderately steep.
- Leave No Trace: Whatever you carry in, carry back out. Please no pets, fires, or motorized vehicles on the preserves.

Two Two-week Sessions of Summer Writing & Recreational Experiences for Youths 8 to 18

SUMMER 2014

Writing Day Camp

The thirty-first annual SIUE Summer Writing Day Camp is an attractive opportunity for youths ages 8 to 18 who wish to combine learning with recreation. Presented through the Department of English Language and Literature, the Writing Day Camp offers intensive and practical development in basic writing skills in combination with a full and vigorous recreational program.

Students are grouped according to their grade level in school, with groups averaging about 12 students each. Total enrollment is limited to 78 student-campers per session. The camp director is assisted by a staff comprised of area elementary and secondary school and University teachers and recreational counselors. The adult-student ratio in the Writing Camp is about 1 to 10.

The daily schedule is 9:00-10:30, classroom writing development; 10:30-12:00, campus recreational activity; 12:00-12:30, lunch; 12:30-2:00, classroom writing development; 2:00-3:30, campus recreational activity. All student-campers eat together in the University cafeteria. Campers may purchase their lunch or bring it from home.

Dates & Times

9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.—Monday through Friday

June 9—June 20

July 7—July 18

Writing Development

The writing sessions of the camp concentrate on intensive practice in the development and expression of ideas. The objective of the program is the development of skill in the articulation of thought in the sentence, the paragraph, and the short essay, as well as, by means of collaborative effort, in such creative forms as drama and fiction. Instruction in spelling, grammar, punctuation, and other basics of language usage is provided on an individual basis as needed, but not as an objective of the program.

Students at all grade levels use computers extensively in the composition process, but they do not need prior experience with computers in order to do well in the program.

The sole requirement for admission to the Writing Camp is the desire to learn to write well. Enrollment is on a first-come first-served basis.

Cost: $215.00

A $15.00 non-refundable enrollment fee is payable with the return of the registration form. The $200.00 balance is due no later than June 6 for the June session and July 3 for the July session.

Recreational Activity

The beautiful natural setting of its 2,600-acre campus makes Southern Illinois University Edwardsville ideal for a summer recreational program for youths. Student-campers have the opportunity to choose from a wide range of recreational activities that stimulate their imagination and develop their physical skills: softball, swimming, volleyball, bowling, and nature exploration, among others.

Writing instructors and recreational counselors try to insure that student-campers view the writing and recreational parts of the camp as one continuous learning experience.

The SIUE Summer Writing Day Camp is offered by the Department of English Language and Literature in the College of Arts and Sciences. It represents an effort to upgrade literacy through close professional cooperation between the University and area schools on the initiative of the University. Instructors in the Writing Camp either are area elementary and secondary school teachers or are present or former instructors in the Department of English at SIUE who have received special training in the teaching of writing.
